Student Acceptable Use Policy

Tracy Farmer Center for the Environment (TFCE) offers students access to electronic information through the University of Kentucky. Along with this access to computers and to people all over the world comes the availability of materials that may not be considered appropriate for use in the classroom. Because it is impossible to control all materials available through the global network, conference staff and parents/guardians of minors are ultimately responsible for setting and conveying the standards that students should follow when using these information resources. TFCE supports each family's right to decide whether or not to allow their child to have access.

Access is a privilege, not a right.

Students are responsible for appropriate behavior when using the Internet, just as they are in classrooms and school hallways. Therefore, general rules for behavior apply. Access to network services is offered to students who agree to act in a considerate and responsible manner, and parent permission is required. Based upon the acceptable use guidelines outlined in this document, the system administrators will deem what is inappropriate use, and their decisions are final. The staff may revoke or suspend user access when these terms are violated.

Students will:

- use the network for educational purposes such as conducting research for assignments consistent with the TFCE academic expectations; and
- use appropriate language, avoiding swearing, vulgarities, or abusive language.

Students will NOT:

- transmit or receive materials in violation of federal or state laws or regulations pertaining to copyrighted, threatening or obscene materials, including sexually explicit materials;
- use Internet access for personal or commercial activities, product promotion, political lobbying, or illegal activities;
- break into/attempt to break into another computer network;
- damage/attempt to damage, move, or remove software, hardware or files;
- use unauthorized multi-user games;
- send or forward chain letters;
- use unauthorized software products (such as PointCast) which adversely affect network performance;
- create or share computer viruses;
- maliciously attempt to harm or destroy data of another user;
- use network resources to otherwise violate the Acceptable Behavior Contract; or
- use network resources to disrupt the efficient operation and/or educational programs of the University of Kentucky, specifically the TFCE ITEST Workshop.

Internet communications are not private, and may be reviewed by personnel, or by someone appointed by them, to ensure that all guidelines are followed. Violation of the terms listed above will result in a loss of access to the Internet, and may result in other disciplinary action up to and including suspension from the ITEST Workshop. Use of public property for personal gain is a felony. Violators or parents of student violators may be subject to prosecution.

TFCE Student Acceptable Use Policy User Agreement Form

Please complete this section to indicate that you agree with the terms and conditions outlined in the TFCE Student Acceptable Use Policy. Return this portion to your child's teacher, where a copy will remain on file at the TFCE. The signatures of both the student and parent/guardian are required before access to Internet services is granted.

As a student participating in the TFCE ITEST Workshop and as a user of the University of Kentucky computer network, I have read and hereby agree to comply with the TFCE Acceptable Use Policy.
